Believe There Will Be More Opposition in Indiana Than in Ohio

SENATOR ON WAY HOME

Secretary Not To Make Personal Invasion of Either State

March 9.—Although the political fight between J. Edgar Hoover and William H. Watson is still in its early stages, it is expected that the contest will be a stiff one. Watson, who is running for the U. S. Senate from Indiana, is expected to make a personal visit to Marion, Ohio, to see Hoover, who is running for the U. S. Senate from Ohio.

NO CHANGE Girl May Remain in Unconscious Condition For Months

PAINESVILLE, March 9.—Miss Helen Buschman, 19, of Westfield, Mass., today was passing through her 54th day of unconsciousness in a local hospital.

No change was reported in her condition. The girl, whose period of coma is said to have set a record, may remain in her present condition for months, attending physicians declare.

Miss Buschman suffered a fractured skull Jan. 15, when she was struck by a bus at Mentor.

BRICKMASON DIES SUDDENLY IN ROOM HERE

Acute Toxic Condition Cause Assigned by Physicians in Pearl Beck's Death

Acute toxic condition was given by physicians today as the cause of the death of Pearl Beck, 44, a brickmason of Morral, who died at the rooming house conducted by Eva Kenyon, 221 1/2 N. Main-st., yesterday afternoon.

While physicians, who had been called by Miss Kenyon, were attempting to determine the cause of his illness, a bottle containing a small amount of liquor was found in Beck's room by the police who visited the rooming house following his death.

Miss Kenyon told the police that Beck had been ill for several days. On the day previous, she said, he became so ill it was necessary for her to assist him to his room.

Physician Called
Yesterday afternoon, she said, when he became ill, she called a physician. But Beck died a few minutes after the arrival of the physician and before anything could be done for him. The body was removed to the C. E. Curtis & Co. funeral home on E. Center-st.

Friends of the dead man, according to the police, say Beck had $300 when he came to this city a week ago and yesterday only a few dollars were found in his possession. An investigation is being made by the police.

Mr. Beck was born in Morral, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Beck, and he is survived by two sisters and one brother.

Funeral services will be held at the home of William Kootz, at Morral at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. C. S. Sloan. Burial will be in the Grand Prairie Cemetery.

REGULATION OF BLOOD STREAM IN U. S. IS GOAL

New Policy Would Reestablish 1790 Census Proportions of Foreign Stock

FIRST TIME IN HISTORY

National Origins Program Admittedly Biological and Social Experiment

Washington, March 9.—Barring unforeseen action by Congress within three weeks, the United States will undertake for the first time in world history to fix by law the ingredients of the national blood stream.

The ultimate aim of the new policy, as defined in the existing immigration act, will be to reestablish to some proportions of foreign stock as were found in the country at the first census, in 1790.

All previous legislation regulating immigration has been designed to preserve only an arbitrary balance between the totals of the native and foreign-born populations. The new policy, to be proclaimed by President Coolidge April 1, unless Congress again authorizes postponement, will express the national will not only to control immigration by numbers and selectivity, but to determine forever the portion of each foreign stock which shall go into the great American melting pot.

First Time in History
Never before in history, according to State Department ethnologists, has a people undertaken to determine by law the content of the blood of future generations.

Admittedly an experiment of profound biological and social potentialities, the new "national origins" policy has been vigorously resisted by ineffective minorities in both houses of Congress since its inception four years ago. But it will become effective July 1, if Congress does not repeal the law.

The new law will limit immigration to 153,885 persons annually, against the present maximum of 164,000. The principal effect of the new formula, however, will be a violent shifting of the quotas of the various countries of Europe—with a view to preserving the dominance of the English strain in the same ratio as existed in 1790.

CIVIC HEADS ASKED TO ROTARY MEETING

Grove Patterson, Toledo Editor, Will Address Meeting Here Monday

Practically all local organizations active in Marion's civic affairs are expected to have representatives at a meeting to be held at Hotel Harding under auspices of the Rotary Club Monday, when an address will be given by Grove Patterson, editor of the Toledo Blade.

Presidents of 44 organizations have been invited to attend. Arrangements are in charge of the Rotary Club's public affairs committee, R. T. Lewis, J. M. Strelitz and Carl Ungericht.

O K FOR TIPPING

Pin of Porters and Maids for Wage Boost Dismissed

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Pointing out that Congress has inferentially legalized the practice of tipping, Pullman car porters, the Interstate Commerce Commission today dismissed the plea of Pullman porters and maids for a wage increase, holding it was without jurisdiction.

The decision declared that tipping "was practiced long before Congress began to regulate interstate commerce, and it is reasonable to assume that had Congress intended the practice of tipping or receiving tips to be unlawful, it would have so declared in express terms."

COMPLETE LIST OF CANDIDATES NOW ON FILE

Marion County Election Headquarters for Eighth Congressional District

Complete lists of candidates for convention delegates and alternates to be voted on in the Eighth Congressional District at the presidential preference primary on April 24 are now on file at the office of the Marion County Board of Elections, where preparations for printing of ballots were started today.

Marion County is election headquarters for the district and copy for the primary ballots is to be prepared here and certified to the other five counties. Marion County is designated as headquarters under provisions of the law which give that distinction to the most populous county in each district.

Work of preparing the ballot was started this morning following receipt of the final certification of declarations of candidacy filed in the various counties. The last to arrive came from Morrow County, where the entries were V. W. Peck, candidate for Republican alternate, and Charles R. Chilcote, Democratic candidate for alternate.

Contracts for printing ballots and furnishing poll books and other supplies to be used in the presidential preference primary in Marion County will be awarded by the Board of Elections at a meeting to be held March 21.

There are to be 35,400 ballots printed for this county.

These will be in two sets, one listing the names of candidates for delegate and alternate to both state and national convention and the other giving the names of the presidential candidates.

There will be 17,700 ballots in each set.

REVISION OF SCHOOL SYSTEM SEEN AS NEED

Present Plan Called Most Gigantic Blunder by Speaker at P-T-A Meeting

CONVENTION CLOSES

Utilization of Pre-School Years of Child Claimed as Big Task

The present school system which provides for 12 years of schooling such as is comprehended in the course of study to every boy and girl was declared by Dr. Clayton C. Kohl of Bowling Green Normal College, in an address at the closing session of the Parent-Teacher Association at Central Junior High School last night to be one of the most gigantic blunders ever made by any nation.

"The idealism represented in our country's policy in this matter thrills every thoughtful man," the speaker said, "but those engaged in carrying out the policy know that the task is hopeless. We have to change the course, or we have to change the people who are to take it." Dr. Kohl declared, "It is probable that we will have to do both."

"We gain says: 'Nations are made and unmade at the marriage altar.' There is deep truth here that America has scarcely discerned as yet. On the other hand, the earliest trade in the world is that of trying to teach the achievements of the most minds of the race to people who have no ability or interest in such achievements. This is a problem for statesmen, not for schools; and statesmen have not begun to consider it as yet."

Utilize Pre-School Years
Continuing Dr. Kohl said: "A great educational task that lies without the boundaries of the school is the utilization of the pre-school years of the child. The greatest single spiritual challenge to America and to the world for that matter is the challenge of early childhood. Modern psychology and biology have made it certain beyond the shadow of a doubt that the first six or eight years of a child's life are in many ways the most important of his total life."

"In these are effected the foundational changes that determine the moral, spiritual, social, intellectual, and aesthetic bent of the mind and soul. The roots of personality are laid here. The food, rest, play, and love a child gets in his early years probably determine the physical and mental disposition to be taken through life. It is easy to exaggerate in this matter. Our knowledge here is very weak in detail."

"A study of family traits might be of help in sounder judgment, but in this one can hardly date fixation of Turn to Page 13

HERRIMAN ATTACKS MINE UNION HEADS

Company President Sharply Criticized Before Senate Commerce Commission

Washington, March 9.—An attack upon the alleged "dictatorial" policies of the national officers of the United Mine Workers was made before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today by F. E. Herriman, president of the Clearfield Bituminous Coal Corp., a New York Central Railroad subsidiary. His company operates in central Pennsylvania.

"We favor collective bargaining, but not collective dictation as practiced by the international union," said Herriman. "The United Mine Workers will never arbitrate. They say, 'You must accept our terms or we will strike.'"

Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, sharply criticized Herriman's statement.

DEATH CLAIMS WANAMAKER

Famous Merchant and Philanthropist Succumbs at His Atlantic City Estate After Short Illness from Pneumonia; Son and Daughter at Bedside

PATRON OF ARTS AND FRIEND OF AVIATION

Reported To Have Been Heaviest Insured Man in United States with Policies on Life Totalling $7,500,000; Business Associates Stunned

New York, March 9.—John Wanamaker, New York merchant, philanthropist and patron of arts and sciences, who died today at his estate in Atlantic City, was reported to be the heaviest insured man in the United States. Policies on his life totaled $7,500,000.

He was one of the foremost merchants in the world. He inherited the family name, Wanamaker, from his famous father, the late John Wanamaker.

Wanamaker's death this morning was sudden. A cold contracted last Sunday developed into pneumonia, to which he succumbed at 2:30 o'clock. At his bedside were his son, Capt. John Wanamaker, and his daughter, Mrs. Peter Mumma.

Wanamaker was 65 years old. He was born in Philadelphia, Feb. 13, 1862. He was graduated from Princeton University in 1880 and shortly afterward went into the mercantile business with his father.

While one of the outstanding merchants in the world he was also a great aviation enthusiast. It was his dream, he declared a few years ago, that there would be aircraft travel between London and New York so that he could spend the weekend in England and be back home for work on Monday. He backed Commander Richard E. Byrd in his successful flight over the North Pole and his recent non-stop flight from New York to France.

Unlikely Merchant
The wealthy merchant prince was an unlikely public servant. He took special interest in the New York City Police Department and at one time served as special deputy commissioner and president of the Board of Deputy Police Commissioners. He was a trustee of the National Life Insurance Co. of New York and also acted as executor for the estates of his father, John Wanamaker, and of Thomas D. Wanamaker. In 1918 he was appointed executor of the estate of James Gordon Bennett, noted editor.

One of Wanamaker's countless gifts enabled the American Keble and Historical Society to secure a portion of the original Port Washington, a relic of the revolutionary war.

Wanamaker was a music lover. His daughter, the Wanamaker store here was the scene of concerts of the highest order. It was his delight to acquire rare and old musical instruments and then have them played by artists for the benefit of the public. At one such concert the instruments were valued at $300,000.

Wanamaker's business associates were stunned by his unexpected death. George Whelan, an official of the Wanamaker store here, said: "He was the greatest merchant of the country—and the most humane."

Wanamaker always was host to detachment at Annual Christmas Banquet

RUSH GERMAN SHIPS FOR ATLANTIC HOPS

(Three of Biggest Airplane Construction Companies Work feverishly)

Berlin, March 9.—Three of the biggest German airplane construction companies are working feverishly to complete three new transatlantic airplanes before the end of the year. The companies are the Heinkel, Junkers and Dornier. The Heinkel He 178 is a four-engine biplane with a wingspan of 140 feet. It is designed to carry 100 passengers and 10 tons of cargo. The Junkers Ju 390 is a four-engine biplane with a wingspan of 150 feet. It is designed to carry 120 passengers and 12 tons of cargo. The Dornier Do 19 is a four-engine biplane with a wingspan of 160 feet. It is designed to carry 140 passengers and 14 tons of cargo.

Additional Motors
The principle on which most of the German planes are based is that a single engine must have more than 1,000 horsepower. These are the three most serious and transatlantic airplanes in the world. The Heinkel He 178 is the largest of the three. It is designed to carry 100 passengers and 10 tons of cargo. The Junkers Ju 390 is the second largest. It is designed to carry 120 passengers and 12 tons of cargo. The Dornier Do 19 is the smallest of the three. It is designed to carry 140 passengers and 14 tons of cargo.

transatlantic German competitors. The 145-passenger monster plane, designed by Professor E. Rumpler, is being built in Germany. It is designed to carry 145 passengers and 14 tons of cargo. It is the largest airplane ever built.

DENVER TEACHERS START LOCAL UNION BRANCH

Denver.—With a charter membership of 51, the Denver local of the American Federation of Teachers has been organized. It is the first local of the AFT in Denver. The local is headed by Mrs. Florence Curtis, secretary-treasurer of the American Federation of Teachers. The local is composed of teachers from the public schools of Denver.

LAST OF CORK CUTTERS PLIES TRADE IN LONDON

London.—Leopold Garas, the last of the famous hand cork-cutters, is still plugging his trade in a one-roomed shop here. Garas has been cutting corks by hand for sixty years, and his skill is almost unquenchable to the layman. With a chopper the size of an axe he can cut pieces of cork as fine as an apple. "It is as easy as cutting butter," according to Garas. With Garas will disappear his old-time industry, the inventiveness of man having produced machines which can cut corks by the thousands in as much time as Garas takes to cut a hundred.

AMERICAN GIRLS MAKE GOOD IN OPERA

MARY LEWIS

GRACE MOORE

MARION TALLY

It is not now as it hath been of yore—three native-born American girls have plowed through handicaps and prejudices and have emerged triumphant as grand opera prima donnas. And, what's more important, they've done away with, for all time, the ancient barriers that were seemingly erected against Yankee singers.

Next came Mary Lewis, and, finally, Grace Moore. They rushed in where angels had feared to tread. It took courage and persistence—it took faith and hope and lots of light—but all three had those qualities, and that's why they won out in the face of innumerable discouragements.

There never was any really good reason why Americans should have been left out in the cold, provided they had the talent. And now they're going to hold their own against imported talent. And, we might add, please note that the pioneers were GIRLS. Do you get the point?

FRENCH SHOW DEVICES FOR SUBMARINE SAFETY

Paris.—With a view to the safety of the United States Navy Department with regard to the prevention of a repetition of the disaster to the French Academy of Sciences, the French government has given three ideas, all of which are being considered for submarine safety in shallow depths.

One plan is to drop a small float into the hull, pumping out the water so that a diver could be raised and released. The second is to equip the submarine with a small float which pulls up telephone wire and food tubes to the surface.

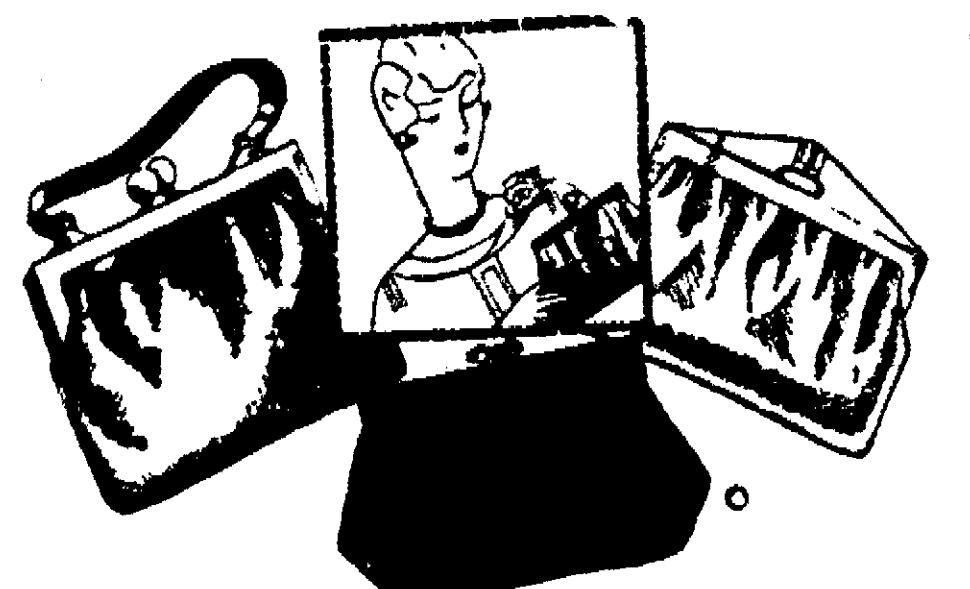

The last, and admittedly least practical, is for the submarine to drag a small float which is a man thought of such a self from the bottom, so to speak, by its own shoes, or rather shoes, which, once released from the hull, would bring her to the surface. The only danger is said to be that the float might be caught in the hull's propellers, which would cause them to stop and the submarine to sink.

CITE FILM AS PEACE MESSAGE TO WORLD

Many Nationalities in Picture Recently Made at Hollywood

Hollywood, Cal., March 9 — The motion picture as a messenger of peace and good will to every land was exemplified here when the first American-made pro-German film settled down for a "run" in one of the important theaters.

It was "Four Sons," which Hollywood has been hearing for some time was written around Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink and her four sons, three of whom fought on the German side and one with the American forces.

Story in Film
In the film story the mother is a Bavarian woman, a housewife, no attempt being made to make her appear to be a concert singer.

The picture had its premier performance before a cosmopolitan audience representing Los Angeles and Hollywood. There were tears and cheers and no disapproval in the Carbay Circle theater when the movie guests rose to go home.

The theme of the story was expressed by an American "doughboy" on the battlefield who spoke a title: "I guess these Germans have mothers, too."

In the cast was Ferdinand Schumann-Heink, son of the famous singer.

World-Wide Scope
The international scope of the production was remarked by the audience. It was sponsored by William Fox, of Hungarian descent; written as a novel by L. A. R. Wylie, an English woman and adapted for the screen by Philip Klein, son of the late playwright Charles Klein, of German descent. The director, John Ford, is Irish. Margaret Manno, who enacted the role of the mother is Scotch.

The only other film production which has approached the pro-German angle was "Barbed Wire," in which a German soldier fell in love with a French girl.

HIGH PRICES KEEP AMERICAN PLAYS OUT

British Managers Say U. S. Producers Are Killing Goose That Lays Eggs

London, March 9—Big prices asked by American managers are stated to be responsible for the reduction in the number of American plays being produced in London.

The two much-discussed American plays, "Coquette" and "Paris Bound," are said to have been offered to Sir Alfred Butt on the following terms:

"Coquette" $2,500 bonus, $500 a week to Jed Harris, the owner, plus $250 a week to Archie Selwyn, plus the author's royalties.

"Paris Bound" 10 per cent royalty, plus 50 per cent of the profits, plus $10,000 advance on account of profits. "I am not rich enough to compete in these terms," says Butt. "I think American managers are losing sight of the fact that London audiences will not—and for the most part cannot afford to pay the enormous prices that New York audiences are prepared to pay for successes."

"It is only reasonable that when a manager has produced a play and created a success he should reap his own benefit. But it is really absurd for American managers to ask substantial bonuses, profit royalties, and, in addition, a large proportion of the profits. Unless one wants to produce plays for mere glory such propositions are commercial madness."

"If American managers are going to

WOMEN OUTRANK MEN IN TONGA GOVERNMENT

Beckley—The dusky primitive peoples of Tonga, 100 miles north of New Zealand, have finished a perfect precedent for the feminist, L. W. Gifford, director of the University of California museum, declared here.

Gifford after a year spent in the Tongan group explained that for many centuries the most exalted rulers of the islands were women. Since the establishment of Christianity there is 1865 women have continued to be regarded as a superior to men in family life.

"The highest rank was not vested in the king," Gifford said, "but in his sister, and a queen but the female king of Tonga."

"The Tongan household is completely under the domination of his sister and his sister's children."

"Daughters rank higher than sons at Bahrana, over which the Persian

All mental duties such as washing, cooking and gardening, are left for the men to do. Women interest themselves in weaving and sewing.

CASPIAN SEA CAVIAR TO REACH PRE-WAR LEVEL

Tehran—Export of caviare and dried fish from the Caspian Sea, is expected to reach its pre-war level following the formation of the Russo-Persian Company, in which the Persian Government is represented by three directors to the three Russian directors appointed by the Soviet Government in accordance with the recent fisheries agreement between the two countries.

Caspian caviare is reputed to be the finest in the world, and has been noted for its valuable fisheries that support a big population.

The pearl industry of the Persian Gulf, centered at the port of Lingab between Bushire and Bandar Abbas is again assuming considerable proportions. The main produce center is on the opposite side of the Persian Gulf.

Daily Proverb—"Drink nothing without seeing it; sign nothing without reading it."

"Government salaries are not high," remarks the Washington Star, "but there is a consideration of patriotic idealism in the service that offers an element of compensation." That word, idealism, in this connection, is mighty suggestive.

Florida is seeking a tariff wall to protect her fruits and vegetables from the "cheap labor" products of Mexico and the West Indies. But then, the free trade South always was strong for the protection of its home industries.

Under a law passed a quarter of a century ago, principals of New York City schools have been ordered to teach the evils of alcohol and tobacco. In the present frame of mind of the youth of today that's liable to prove an advertisement for both liquor and tobacco.

If the writer who mailed to the editor of the Star, Wednesday, the communication in connection with school savings deposits will supply his or her name, as the case may be, this paper will be very glad to print it, but we can not give publicity to anonymous letters.

On a total income of $14,500.763 for the year 1927, the surplus earnings of the Middle-west Utilities company, after payment of preferred and prior lien dividends, interest and administration expenses, totaled $8,988,401. For some time there has been a suspicion on this way that some of the utility companies weren't losing money.

Watch your change! A new counterfeit $20 bill on the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago, 1914 series, check letter D, face plate 244, back plate 905, signed by Frank White, treasurer of the United States, and A. W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, and bearing the portrait of Cleveland, is in circulation.

The house foreign affairs committee voted six to five against the resolution to ban submarines; one member declaring the proposal "an empty gesture." In other words, Secretary Kellogg should learn that congressional dignity demands that congress must be consulted before the promulgation of any policy looking to disarmament as a route to the peace of the world.

Over at Pittston, in Pennsylvania, seven youths whose ages range from seventeen to twenty-two have been arrested for beating to death and robbing a Lithuanian, mistaken by them for a "kash." Those contemplating a trip to Pittston will do well to carry their cards.

Four hundred alleged Mafia delinquents were rounded up by the Italian police, Wednesday, and the same day sixty-seven previously arrested received prison sentences ranging from two to twenty-seven years. Mr. Mussolini is getting results in his campaign against crime, but it may be observed that he isn't following a policy of "moral suasion" urged by the sob-sisters over here.

A sixteen-year-old Kansas girl, who admits that she has been furnished wonderful clothes, given an education and been allowed to have a good time, has had her mother arrested for spanking her when she remained away from home all night on a joyride. If the court doesn't find that mother for not using a club, we'll begin to suspect what's the matter with Kansas.

The Offending of Mayor Walker.

A Washington wire tells us that Mayor Walker, of New York, kept President Coolidge waiting for forty minutes and arrived from twenty to thirty minutes late at scheduled meetings with three cabinet officers.

Asked if he made any explanation of his failure to arrive on time at the White House, Mayor Walker is reported to have answered that he did not.

Had the Washington cases been exceptional, it might have been taken for granted that there was legitimate excuse for them, but they were not. The mayor has been a notorious offender in this respect. He has thus offended in his home city. He thus offended in Paris, and in Berlin, and in London. On the occasion of his recent trip to Europe, he was thoroughly consistent in his disregard of time in keeping appointments. Possibly having offended as he did with European notables, he felt that, if he appeared on time for an engagement with the head of his own nation, it would be taken as indicative of an intent to show discourtesy abroad.

No matter what the explanation of Mr. Walker's offending in this regard may be, a considerable portion of the public will be inclined to view his transgressions as evidences of irresponsibility, or a lack of training in good usages and manners, or assume that he is one of those unfortunates who imagine that they can magnify their importance in the public eye by showing a lack of courtesy to others, especially to others in official or other positions superior to theirs.

Of course, it's possible that Mayor Walker may be suffering under all three of these handicaps.

Why Not Let Him Alone?

Attempts to interview Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, made by Washington newsgatherers this week, did not result in achievements which might reasonably be termed glittering. Met by a party of them as he was leaving the office of Secretary of State Kellogg, where he had called to pay his respects, the following was the resultant interview as given in a Washington despatch.

"Are you going to remain in Washington for some time?" he was asked.

"I have no comments to make," he said.

"Is there any truth to the report that you are going to a hospital for a rest?"

"I have no comments to make."

"Did you discuss any of your future plans with Mr. Kellogg?"

"I have no comments to make."

"Did you contemplate any flight abroad soon?"

"I have no comments to make."

"Can you say anything about your impressions of the so-called fuelless motor?"

"I have no comments to make."

At this point the newsgatherers apparently got the idea that there was nothing doing in the nature of an informative interview. That "I have no comments to make," repeated as it was, at last got to them. And possibly no better foil to their efforts than the repetition of that line could have been offered. It put them up against a determination which manifested the repelling qualities of a stone wall.

Why should it be necessary for Colonel Lindbergh to use such tactics. Why can not the newspapers of the land accede to his wishes, to his voiced request that he be permitted to enjoy a little privacy. He has been generous in giving out news when there was occasion for such a course; why force him to be other than his gracious self; to assume a course which probably is repugnant to him.

Months ago, Lindbergh expressed himself as being weary of the "hero stuff," and in every possible way he has made evident that he is tired of receptions, tired of publicity bearing on private matters, tired of being chased about by reporters and camera men and tired of crowds. He has asked that he be permitted a little privacy; that he be permitted to go about by himself like any other citizen. Why not grant him wishes and requests? Why punish him because he was splendidly achieved?

Anyway, any one caught in the rush for General Motors, the 17,400,000 shares of which advanced $189,225,000 in three days, making its total market stock value $2,810,000,000, can't blame us true aristocrats of the land.

Unaware that her husband, in an endeavor to save her life, has admitted that he shot the Montreal taxi driver, Doris McDonald, now denies that she ever confessed to the killing and says it was done by their confederate who escaped. That pair is showing an awful lack of teamwork.

Last Run of the Thomas.

A notable record of thirty years of splendid service as an army transport will have been completed when the Thomas, now enroute from Manila on her last trip on the transpacific run, reaches San Francisco. She is to be replaced by a more modern vessel, and may pass entirely out of the army's service.

The Thomas, then the Minnewaska, was purchased from the Atlantic Transport line in 1898, and her career as an army transport began at once—a record of service probably never exceeded in length by any transport and one as eventful as that of any vessel afloat. She has carried thousands upon thousands of our soldiers to and from the Orient and practically all our military leaders since the Spanish-American war. She has battled and come through many mighty storms in some of which vessels supposedly stancher were lost, and she has a long and notable record of rescues at sea, the most striking being the taking-off of the passengers and crew of the City of Honolulu when that steamship burned in mid-ocean in 1923 and the safe landing of them at Los Angeles.

And during her entire service as a transport, the Thomas has had a record of never having lost a life due to any accident or any fault in navigation—a record even more remarkable than that established by her years of service. Thirty years' crossings and recrossings of the Pacific without a life lost save by natural death! What a record! How well it speaks alike for the Thomas and those who have navigated her.

Let us hope that the new vessel which will succeed her will make a record as good.

The greatest price paid by the woman in business, Mrs. Alice Foote MacDougall told the Bryn Mawr Alumnae club, of New York, was the loss of a husband's society, or even part of his society. It's good to know that there are some women who appreciate us husbands at our true worth.

Charging the grand jury in the United States district court in Huntington, West Virginia, Federal Judge George W. McClintic declared that "if half the church people would stop drinking, bootleggers would go out of business in twenty-four hours." Maybe the judge is right, but candor forces the declaration on our part that we have met some few patrons of the bootleggers whose church connections were in no way obtrusive.

The governor of the northern district of Lower California has signed a $15,000,000 contract with a New York construction company for irrigation work down there. It begins to look as though the late unpleasantness with Mexico has been adjusted.

Disgruntled over the outcome of a basketball game in which the De La Salle High School team of Joliet was defeated by the St. Mel High School team, of Evanston, a band of students overpowered the crew of a Chicago elevated train, intimidated 150 passengers, tore the electric light bulbs out of sockets, threw seat cushions out of the train's windows and destroyed advertising signs. The story didn't state whether the matter was to be taken as a manifestation of sport or education.

Folly To Mislead Physician.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Of course, he had in mind something else than health when James Freeman Clarke said this wise thing: "It may make a difference to all eternity whether we do right or wrong today."

It is true, and unfortunately true, that many a boy and girl disregard the everlasting penalty of habits which make for shortened life and which may result in such physical degeneration as to destroy the happiness of the next generation. The impulse of the moment may lead you to do something which you will regret all the rest of your life.

To my mind one of the surest evidences of the kindness of nature is that the effects of most of our shortcomings can be overcome. By the exercise of self-control and common sense we may overcome them. However, if the blood becomes contaminated by reason of evil association, there may begin in the system an undermining process which will shorten the life of the victim and be transmitted to the children unto the third and fourth generation.

I have no desire to alarm any one of my readers. If by any chance one such person has strayed from the path of righteousness and has acquired a disease which untreated is capable of resulting in all the evil I have mentioned, there is a means of escape.

Among the wise sayings of Benjamin Franklin is this admonition: "Don't misinform your doctor nor your lawyer." If you suspect that your blood has become contaminated, confide this fact to your physician. Tell him the whole truth. Then he will not be in the dark, but will know just exactly what course to pursue to spare you and posterity of the blighting effects of your transgression.

Many a suicide has resulted from the fear of the evil effects which may follow certain blood infections. These sad endings have terminated careers which need not have been blasted by a step of this sort. There is a means of escape. Your doctor will tell you what should be done, and he will outline for you a system of treatment which will overcome the consequences of your transgression.

We may make another application of what Dr. Clarke says. It makes a lot of difference to you and your children whether you have the right treatment for your ailment. If you go to an able physician and he is given full charge of your case, he will save you from the dreadful consequences of what you have done.

Under no circumstances go to an unscrupulous quack. Find a first-class physician, an upright, honest gentleman, as well as a skillful practitioner of medicine.

You will have no difficulty in reading between the lines of what I have written today. The fathers and mothers will understand, and the children should be taught early enough the significance of right living and the proper medical attention if misfortune befall.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

G. E. G. Q.—I have just had my tonsils removed, yet I am still weak and tired. What can I do to remedy this condition?

A—After any operation it takes time in order to gain back your former strength. Eat plenty of nourishing foods, take a certain amount of exercise in the fresh air and sunshine and get plenty of rest each night.—Copyright, 1928, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Dr. Copeland will answer for readers of this paper questions on medicinal, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. Where the subject of a letter is such that it can not be published in this column, Dr. Copeland will, when the question is a proper one, send personally, if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is enclosed. ## FOOLISH ROBIN.

"Oh, Marjorie, lass, come gaze me we—
I've loved ye this long while—
To where yon blossoming hawthorn bends
Above the mossy stile!"

"And why should I gaze on ye with thee
A lang an' weary mile?
Sav, Robin, lad, why should I gaze
Wi' ye toonder stile?"

"Ah, Marjorie, ye mair know I love
Ye dearest o' the while,
An' I wad foud ye to my heart
Gin ye coo to the stile!"

"Na, Robin, lad, I wana gae.
Nae listen to your galle—"
"But ye wad gae me, Allan Ba,
Gin he wad amly smile!"

"Oh, Robin, lad, pur' fockless bairn,
I wana gae the mile.
To kiss me Allan wad not wae,
To reach a distant stile!"

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

It has been said that a man is great who can use the brains of others to carry on his work. And it is true that executive ability is one of the rarest and most precious gifts that a man can possess. Executive ability can, to some extent, be acquired, but it can not be acquired without the background of personality.

If there is not within a man sound and magnetic quality of leadership which is born of an unusual personality he is not likely to have executive ability. The unthinking man mistakes executive ability for the brutal power to drive men to their jobs. No really great man ever has to drive other men. By his manner and his words he suggests achievement, and thereon other men desire to achieve.

If you find a man who succeeds in pleasing both those above him and those below him you can be sure that he has sincerity. Without that quality he couldn't do it. Sincerity can not be proved by you; it has to be felt by those who are associated with you.

Don't underestimate the mind and heart of the man who cleans your windows or carries out your ashes. The mistakes the world makes in business, education, religion and everything else can pretty well be traced to our failure to understand the thought processes of men who do the lowly work of the world—and who are in the majority in numbers. Thinking is still a rare and difficult art, but there is more thinking done under jumpers and jeans than we credit.

The man who does not desire and cultivate the society of men whom he does not meet at social affairs, but who are as intellectually worthy as he is himself, is not even giving himself a fair chance to understand life.

There is considerable unemployment in this country. While there are perhaps 1,500,000 of men and women who are working only part time, the labor department estimates there are 1,000,000 who are unable to find work at all. There are, of course, always a large number of idle men who are idle because they make little effort to find work. We always have a "lazy army" as well as merely an "idle army." But the fact remains there are many thousands eagerly hunting for work and not finding it.

A decrease in production and a wider distribution and use of labor by means of the five-day week and shorter hours have been suggested. This frightens many people who feel that a five-day week is a sell-out to laziness and luxury. Let's not be too quick to condemn any new idea. Let's not be afraid to face up to all problems with sense and courage.

Editorial Comment.

SHARKS AND PERSONALITIES.

Mr. Van Cuyper, Honorary of the American Museum of Natural History, who purports to give sharks a chance to bite him in order to find out something about their disposition, may discover, we fear, that much depends upon the shark that he selects—or that selects him. The fictional man-eating shark, long notorious as the only safe thing for a newspaper to attack, is not likely at this late date to find defenders. (The question is: are all sharks man-eating? Presumably not, but perhaps some of them are.) Mr. Heiler's friends can only hope that as he mixes in submarine society he will have the good luck to be entertained only by the more kindly dispositioned of the finny family.

Efforts of mankind to understand the animal fellow creatures with whom we share this planet are too often clouded by an error which few experienced men or women make about their human fellows: the error of assuming that all individuals are alike. There are human sharks that bite everybody on sight. There are human polishes that delight to swim around comfortably and be fed, without one idea or one notion of ambition throughout the whole long day. There are insurmountably affable humans like those friendly little fish of tropic seas who come and nibble bashfully at the bathers' toes. The great fact of human psychology is that we are all individuals. Why should sharks be poured all in the same mold of mind any more than we? It is an instance of that over-simplification of nature which is the chief pitfall of the embryo naturalist that all sharks have been called dangerous and dreadful.

The true moral is larger, however, than either a study of sharks, or the way in which men are classified. Knowledge is raising our outlook on the world. When facts known to naturalists were few, as in Aristotle's day and for centuries thereafter, these facts could be remembered singly. No set of mental pigeonholes was necessary. Unfortunately, that day is past. Not even that fabulous individual who did not forget, Mr. Addison Sims, of Seattle, can cram into his mind nowadays all the facts known about even one small facet of nature, like the family of sharks. Generalizations of some kinds are inevitable. Yet they are dangerous, for they ignore the individual instances; they forget the individuality of the shark. What the world needs is not so much tame sharks or wild ones, bitten naturalists or whole ones, as it does some way of gaining knowledge without classifying in too rigidly.

—New York Herald Tribune.

Fate.

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS.

"Wouldn't you like an article on fate?" claims that every person is destined to die in a certain manner and at a certain place and at a certain time. He points out that a person is not killed in passing through a hazardous experience because the time has not come. He contends that the manner and time of a person's death are governed mainly by the law of cause and effect, and that one man lives while another dies in the same experience because the conditions were not identically the same for both.—C. J. V. Chicago.

A's fatalism views leave no room for religious or moral views and effects. Most of the fatalism that comes from the world arises from a similar source. A British officer once gave me a most vivid account of the effects of fatalism in a battle with a native tribe in South-west Africa. The naked warriors with their rude spears came on in ceaseless waves against his well-armed, strongly entrenched soldiers, showing absolute indifference to death, climbing over the bodies of their fallen fellows, eager only to kill with no fear of being killed, until their superhuman recklessness of death and wild fury of bloodshed struck a chill to the hearts of the defenders. The survivors of the battle were those who believed that fate held them in its hand, that nothing that they could do would either attract or repel death, and that through death they would pass straight to Paradise.

Some may find an argument for fatalism in that it emancipates from fear and from anxiety. But it makes life and the universe a fraud on human hopes and aspirations. Although we are governed by cause and effect, we are subject to what we can only describe as chance because of our imperfect knowledge. Nevertheless, while our lives are in our own hands, we can lead the dice in our own favor. As soon as we understand a cause, we can vary the effect of it. We almost enter into partnership with the Fates, and may even play the part of one or the other of the three.

"Spin, spin, Clotho spin, Lachesis twist, and Atropos sever."

The complication of simultaneous causes acting in nature and life is so great that we can hardly hope that man will ever understand more than a very few of them. Yet I do not believe that our agency in our own destinies is excluded. While an evening's big, clammy flakes of a February snow storm are whirling against a balcony outside my window. They come on in white streams, all apparently destined to the same end, yet though many are splattered to—ell against the woodwork, a few, caught at the last instant in the salvational curve of some invisible slant of air, sail gaily away to cavort in the free atmosphere while their comrades perish.

The chain of causes producing these different results is concealed from us, but can we doubt its existence? But "cause" is not "fate" or "destiny" here any more than it is on the battlefield, or in an accident, where some of those subject to injury escape and others do not. And when human will and purpose are added to the unforseeable turns of chance there is still less room for fate. The bullet does not fly at random, it is aimed. The more observant, the quicker-witted, the less excitable person in a railroad or auto smash may save his life where another, not so smug about those qualities, would lose it.

One should avoid too much dogmatism on this subject; it is too full of unexplored mystery. Humanity touches it in strange ways. I recall a story from Carl Schurz's "Reminiscences" that is somewhat apropos. In a hotel at Chautauque, Schurz, then a Union general, heard as the battle opened an inner voice telling him: "Today you will be killed." For hours this haunted him and he could not shake off a feeling of depression. Suddenly, while sitting on his horse, with his staff near by, he saw a cannon ball coming through the trees straight toward him. But it passed between the legs of his horse, broke the leg of a horse behind him and spent its force against a bank of earth. Then the voice said to him: "This was the one, but it didn't kill you, after all, and immediately the oppressive gloom, felt from his spirit. Did fate change his mind? And what niche in psychology does this incident occupy?—Copyright, 1928, International Feature Service, Inc.

Moralizing on the French.

BY O. O. MINTIRE.

Paris, Mar. 9.—France needs to learn more than any civilized country the one thing it will not accept, and that is discipline. It is a shame would be foolish enough, for instance, to order a sidewalk crowd to move on, and would get a tongue-lashing that would be a kick back to generalizing "foot sweet."

The citizens of France glory in the fact that public property belongs to them. It is a shame. There are few "Keep Off the Grass" signs. They picnic and play in the parks and dance in the streets and kick the ball in Place de la Concorde.

Strictly speaking, there are no auto laws or traffic regulations and chauffeurs will rearrange the police if they feel any sense of restriction. You cross the street when you want to and not at a police signal. Traffic had its sequel in the bloody revolution, and the ruling class has always that frightful nature before them, and are cautious.

The French have a saying: "Plus que change, plus c'est la même chose"—the more changes, the more it is the same thing. It is largely responsible for the fact France has changed; that it offers no new laws and architects and customs are the same.

All these liberties are accepted as freedom when, as a matter of fact, they slow down progress. They breed indolence—a love of play—and the false sense life is a continual holiday. A drunken man is rarely mugged on the street. Or he is laughed at. After drinking is a serious business here.

If he falls in the gutter he is taken to a police station, but is not locked up. He merely stretched out on a bench to sleep his jag, and is released. It is amusing watch the dilatory efforts of a French policeman. He does not seem to work at all, merely putters.

I watched a painter today in a dressmaker's shop. He smoked a cigarette, listened to the ladies chatter, winked at a woman or so, stood off and gazed at the dailies he was painting quizzically, felt of wood, went to the window to watch a pa and in all of that time did not wield his brush for more than three strokes. I would like hire out as his helper.

If an ordinary disturbance takes place at a cafe or bistro a gendarme will not interfere unless called upon. He would be offering force to the proprietor and should be expected to be in the will make an arrest only upon request of the owner.

On the other hand, the sentimentalists of France are heartening. The tiny news and tobacco stands dotting the boulevard conducted only by widows of French officers. They are valuable concessions, are handed down from one generation to another. These grants can not be secure political favor, and offer economic inducement to those who receive them.

The funny little birdcage elevators are not almost entirely by wounded veterans (the "Vieux") who, due to the custom of the elevator operators, these posts are prized. Riage starters are also drawn from the source. The starter in front of the Carrier jewelry establishment on the R. la Paix has a false arm, a glass eye and with a limp.

An American gentleman limping with touch of gout or rheumatism finds consolation here in deference shown him in places. France goes on the theory of difficulties are war wounds, and pays the customary respect. Any one may acquire the household's knees, bumping against the chin in a culpable taxi see use them for hero purposes.

A familiar cry in Paris is the "Hut!—jug! Get up!"—of the teamsters. It peculiar intonation of the pig caller, drivers are kind to their horses and ne whips, but yell at them incessantly.

And the bicyclist at night with a red eso candle-lit lantern held in their feet a picturesque touch. Also, the merry fancy colored umbrellas. Paris!—Copyright, 1928, by the McNaughton, Inc.

A MARION CHILD IS RELIEVED OF LONG SUFFERING

Local Lady Tells How The New Konjola Compound Benefited Her Daughter

"I am highly thankful for the great relief Konjola brought to our seven-year-old child, that I will not only make a public statement of this wonderful medicine, but I will also tell my neighbors and friends how much I

MARY CATHERINE MARTIN
AGE 7
Thank of this splendid preparation of Konjola.
This remarkable statement about the celebrated new Konjola compound was made a few days ago by Mrs. H. E. Martin, well-known Marion lady, living at 504 Pearl Street, this city.
"For several months our little girl's health had been a constant worry to me," continued Mrs. Martin. "She couldn't eat, was restless at night and losing weight and dwindling away. She didn't play like other children and seemed to be in a stupor all the time. We gave her nearly everything recommended to us, and were informed by the authorities that it would take a long time to get her back to health again, as she was all rundown.
"I decided to have her take Konjola, and while she has taken it only two weeks, I can truthfully say she is the picture of health. I think I must be the happiest woman in the city now. I notice that my daughter's cheeks are getting pink color in them and her eyes usually sparkle with life. She is hungry all the time, and sleeps fine at night.
"Konjola has done more for my child than any medicine we tried. It relieved her of long suffering, and we want you to know how grateful we really are to this splendid medicine. We will always recommend it."
Konjola is strongly recommended at the Stump & Sons Pharmacy, 121 South Main St., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this section.—Adv.

COMING STARS of the MOVIES Barbara Worth

JUST A CHANCE visit to a friend in Los Angeles resulted in Barbara Worth breaking into the movies. Shortly after all this had happened, one of the screen's leading critics announced in print that Barbara was potentially a great little actress—and, of course, that didn't injure her career one bit.
Barbara was born in Columbus,

Ohio, and finished her education in a private school in Charleston, South Carolina. After that came the momentous trip to the Coast. She is five feet four inches tall, has a superb figure, weighs 113 pounds, has large blue eyes and auburn hair. She has played as leading woman with several of the best-known male stars of the "flickers."

Reports Sentiment In Eighth District Favors Willis

SURVEY MADE BY NEWSPAPER

Hoover To Get Larger Vote Than Forecast, Is Belief Here

Sentiment in Republican circles in this section of Ohio particularly the Eighth Congressional District, which includes Marion County, strongly favors Frank D. Willis in his race for the presidential nomination against Herbert Hoover, according to a survey recently made by Walker S. Reed, staff correspondent of the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

This view of the situation coincides in a measure with the general expression of opinion coming from local Republican leaders, although the belief here seems to be that Hoover will poll a much larger vote than some forecasts indicate.

Just how thorough the Plain Dealer representative was in his investigation in this locality is not known. Several local Republicans are of the opinion, however, that he probably failed to get an accurate estimate of the Hoover strength here.

Defies Analysis
The Hoover sentiment in Marion and surrounding territory, these observers say, is moving almost entirely as an under-current and consequently can not be estimated with any degree of accuracy.

EVOLUTION OF MILADY'S EARRING SHOWN IN PICTURES

They say the earring's coming back stronger than ever, and the tracing of its origin is entertaining as well as instructive, as the press agents are so fond of declaring. Here's a graphic portrayal of the earring's history from the time it adorned the lobe of the cave woman up to the present moment. Left to right are shown—1, barbaric earrings; 2, earrings of the time around 400 B. C.; 3, Byzantine style; 4, actress of today; 5, Elizabethan vintage, and 6, the newest creation on tap, known as "the ear line."

It is described as one of those political forces which defy the wisest of political analysts. It may be slight and it may be of formidable proportions but according to present indications the actual situation will not be disclosed until after the votes are counted following the presidential preference primary on April 24.

Sums Up Situation
Here is the way the Plain Dealer writer sums up his survey of the Eighth District.

"With regard to the Eighth District, it is impossible to say, he cannot win anywhere. It is the Harding district, centering around Marion; it is the home district of Ralph D. Cole of Fikelay; and it is the former home district of Senator Willis, embracing Hardin County.

It also is the home of the Republican state chairman, Fred W. Warner, of Marion. The whole setup of the Eighth District ought to make it favor Willis and apparently it does at this early stage.

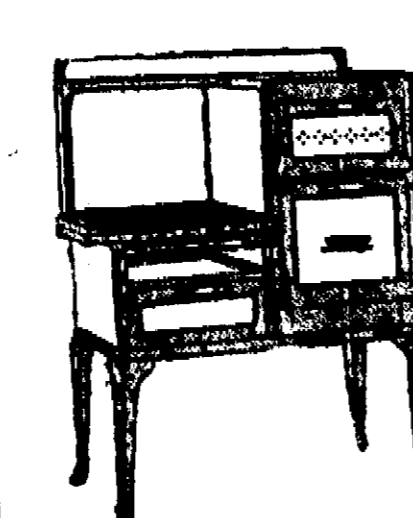

Marion also has a feeling carrying over from its proud and enthusiastic support of Harding in 1920, that the state should not have been invaded in opposition to Willis.

Marion seems to be one place where resentment is expressed against Representative Theodore E. Burton of Cleveland rather than against Walter F. Brown of Toledo for bringing Hoover into Ohio.

City people who love the farm, love to live upon it; they don't especially hanker after the farming.

We're all of us willing to help right a wrong, if somebody will take the lead and the bricks.

JUGOSLAVIA TO PAY DEBTS IN 62 YEARS

Terms Approved in Bill Passed by House and Now Before Senate

Washington, March 8.—Jugoslavia is to pay the United States $95,117,635 distributed over a period of 62 years, in settlement of its $62,850,000 World War debt, under the terms of a bill that has just passed the House of Representatives and is now before the Senate Finance Committee.

This bill ratifies the settlement agreement entered into May 3, 1926 with the World War Debt Funding Commission shortly before it went out of existence. It passed the House last year and was approved by the Senate Committee, but failed of Senate action due to the filibuster in that body in the final days of the last Congress.

Loans and Advances
Of the $62,850,000 funded indebtedness, $54,037,880 represents principal of war loans and advances made to Serbia as an allied nation, and $11,812,114 accrued interest thereon. The additional $32,227,635 will represent interest on the funded debt over the period of liquidation.

The indebtedness will bear no interest for the first 12 years, but interest will apply for the succeeding 50 years on the annual unpaid balances. The first five years annual payments of $200,000 will be made on the principal and for the next seven years these principal payments will increase $25,000 a year, reaching $375,000 for the twelfth year. Commencing with the thirteenth year interest is fixed at one-eighth of one per cent for three years, one-half of one per cent for the next 14 years, one per cent for the next three years, two per cent for the next three years and 3½ per cent for the last 27 years.

Principal and interest payments the thirteenth year will amount to $1,117,635, and will increase from year to year, reaching $1,811,040 the thirty-fifth year. From the thirty-sixth to the sixty-seventh years inclusive the annual payments will approximate $2,400,000. With this settlement ratified, and there is every reason to expect very early action by the Senate, as no opposition to its approval has been voiced.

-o- The New Book -o-

By FRANCES JENNINGS

THE Bridge of San Luis Rey, Thornton Wilder's new novel, which this week heads "Best Sellers" and which does, beyond doubt, rank with the distinctive fiction of the year, is an inquiry into the ways of providence, occasioned by a disaster which brings the same tragic end to five separate individuals.

Brother Juniper, a Franciscan friar, northern Italy, while about his missionary duties one day in Peru changes in the neighborhood of the bridge of San Luis Rey, at the precise moment when that structure, used by thousands of people for more than a century, crashes into the gulf below, carrying with it into eternity the five persons who happened to be crossing it at that particular time.

To ascertain whether we live by a plan and die by it, or whether we have by plan and die by it, Brother Juniper spends many hours in gathering facts regarding the lives of the unfortunate five, facts which, in his confidential form, form the dramatic chapters of the unusual book.

In successive chapters, are introduced the Marquesa de Montemayor, to whom life has been long and bitter, and her servant girl and companion, Pepita, a young convent girl for whom life has hardly begun. In the end, who with his ward are crossing the bridge with prospects of a far happier life on the other side, and finally, one of a pair of twin brothers, knowing the loss of his twin.

ELEMENTS OF INTEREST

The elements of interest and mystery are emphasized far more in R. A. J. Walling's new novel, "That House at Barnstable," than those of thriller and detective excitement. Although the plot is logical, it is not so the out in which clues are important. It derives most of its action from the appearances and long-distance chase, across both England and the Continent.

The one murder is cleverly arranged. Another of the author's achievements is his success in developing an atmosphere of mystery and suspicion about a seemingly innocent dinner-party. Without having any great originality of plot, the book belongs to a superior order of detective story due to its humor, its good literary finish and the variety of its characters.

Now the Instantaneous Potato Dip

Disinfect your seed this new way

Treat your seed potatoes as fast as you can scoop them up. Just dip them in DIPDUST solution and out again—all ready to plant. This new seed potato disinfectant is much more effective than the old-fashioned "two-hour soak" treatment—besides there is no the slightest danger of injuring the sprouts or even cut seed. The season late blight attack in many seed producing areas makes treatment with DIPDUST necessary to prevent seed decay.

After one trial of DIPDUST, you will never again waste two hours treating seed potatoes or spend two weeks worrying about your stand. DIPDUST PROTECTS THE SEED AND INSURES STURDY, PROFITABLE PLANTS.

Compare this New Treatment point by point with the older ones

THE NEW WAY	THE OLD WAY
Dipdust Organic Mercury Disinfectant	Formaldehyde or Corrosive Sublimates
1. Requires less than 1 minute. One man can easily treat from 200 to 400 bushels of potatoes per day.	1. Require from 1 1/2 to 2 hour. One man can treat only from 50 to 75 bushels per day.
2. Can be used on cut or sprouted seed without the slightest injury.	2. Can not be used on cut or sprouted seed without injury.
3. After cutting, protects the cut surfaces from seed-rotting organisms in the soil. This insures a better stand of stronger plants.	3. Before cutting, give no protection to the cut surfaces. The seed frequently decays in the ground before the young plants get started.
4. Controls surface-borne diseases, such as Rhizoctonia, scab and black-leg.	4. Although effective against Rhizoctonia, and scab, do not control black-leg.
5. Improves the stand and growth of the plants, and thus increases the yield 10 to 20%.	5. Frequently decrease the stand and therefore the yield, to a serious extent.

GUARANTEE Plant a few acres of DIPDUST treated seed in alternate rows with untreated seed. If, at digging time, you are not satisfied, return the empty DIPDUST can to us and we will refund price paid.

One pound treats 15 to 20 bushels of seed potatoes.

Treat your Corn and Vegetable Seeds to

You can now also disinfect your seed corns as vegetable seeds with DIPDUST and increase your yield by preventing many of the diseases which can poor germination, weak, spindly plants, and poor quality crop. Simply use as a dust treatment. It is easily and quickly applied and costs but a few cents per acre. One pound of DIPDUST will treat 15 bushels of seed corn, or from six to eight bushels of vegetable seed.

MISSING RECORDS OBSTACLE IN PROBE

Committee To Continue Hunt
for Recipients of Slush
Fund Bonds

Washington, March 9.—The disappearance of all records of contributions to the Republican National Committee following the 1920 campaign, when Harry F. Sinclair was distributing bonds of the Continental Trading Co. with a lavish hand, today placed an obstacle in the path of the Senate Public Lands Committee's search for the $3,000,000 Liberty Bond "slush fund."

The Senate committee will continue hunting for recipients of the bonds, first by back-tracking all known commercial bonds redeemed at the Treasury, and second, by an appeal for volunteer testimony.

Thus far the committee has traced $100,000 in Liberty Bonds from Sinclair to the Republicans and identified $65,000 of these bonds as the original property of the Continental company.

Confirmation of the long rumored reports that Sinclair bonds were given leading Republicans in Chicago in return for cash contributions was obtained from James A. Patton, one-time "wheeling."

The Senate inquiry will be resumed Saturday morning, when additional witnesses will be questioned about the distribution of Sinclair bonds in Chicago.

BARREN ISLANDS TO BE SOON SURVEYED

Scientific Expedition To Pry into Secrets of Pacific
Quake Causes Sought

Washington, March 9.—A scientific expedition that will pry into the secrets of the long line of barren rock islands extending from Oahu to Hawaii, and group westward to Midway, was announced today by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.

Government scientists will leave Honolulu on the U. S. S. Albatross, and make about April 1. While the expedition is aimed primarily at locating the numerous small islands scattered for mapping purposes, it is also a most important data on earthquakes and other geological subjects will be obtained.

Longitude of the islands, most of which are believed never to have been inhabited, except by possible prehistoric refugees, will be determined by comparison of clock time with Washington. Radio time signals will be transmitted from the Albatross, and over the 6000 miles of land and water, sufficiently strong to be received on a phonograph in the time comparing operation.

Many secrets pertaining to the causes of earthquakes are hidden in the remote Pacific Islands, according to Maj. William Brock of the Coast Survey. Brock pointed out that many of the greatest known earthquakes have occurred under the seas.

Dreams are but interludes, which make the time when monarchs reason sleep, the mine wakes—Clyde.

My husband suffered a great deal with headaches. His complexion was very poor. Since taking Tepee Herb Tonic he feels much better. Indeed, he is a good appetite and can eat what he pleases. He is not bothered with headaches and the expression has left his stomach.
His bowels are regular. He is gaining weight right along since he started on Tepee Herb Tonic."

BIRD HITS PLANE

Vulture Can't Swim to Crash, Killing
Two Aviators

Managua, Nicaragua, March 8.—The bodies of two marine corps aviators who met death when a huge vulture of the Nicaraguan jungles struck their plane as they were attempting to land at the aviation field at Esteli, causing it to crash to the ground, awaited shipment here today for burial in the United States.

The victims were Capt. William C.
Byrd and Sgt. Rudolph A. Frank.

Investigation of the strange accident revealed that the huge buzzard struck one of the struts of the plane, causing its left wing to collapse.

The plane was within 500 feet of the ground when the wing collapsed. Both men jumped but the accident occurred too close to the ground for their para-chutes to open and save them.

It isn't the discovery of the clay foot of your hero that shocks you, but of the clay head.

A woman can't be an inspiration to a man if she puts faults in his plans.

Osgood Cagers Clinch Marion Industrial League Title

Games Next Week Will End Season

C. D. & M. Quintet Eliminated from Running by Huber Aggression; Business College and Electricians Now Tied for Second Place Honors

It's all over but the shouting in the Marion Industrial Basketball League following last night's games in which Osgood Commercial, aided by Huber, clinched the championship.

One more week of play remains on the card when practically all ties of importance will be settled. The only fight remaining that holds the interest of fans is the one centered around second place. The Marion Business College and C. D. & M. cagers will battle it out next week for this honor.

After losing one game early in the season, the Osgood team continued to stick close to the initial position. When the Business College five lost, Osgood stepped into a tie only to lose another game later. The Business College dropped out of the running after being defeated twice.

Osgood won the championship last night by defeating the Silk Mill team, 20 to 18. As the score indicates, it was a great battle. Each team battled nip and tuck as the Silk Mill five attempted to tie the things up in the loop.

Conwell and Rinnert led the scoring for their respective teams, Osgood and Silk Mill, with four field baskets each. Lightner scored six points for the winners.

The C. D. & M. the only team given serious consideration to the Osgood, was eliminated by the defeat given them by Huber. The score was 20 to 10.

Huber led throughout the contest getting but little opposition from their opponents.

The race for last place has been settled with the Malleables holding the sack. They were defeated by the General Excavators, 25 to 11.

TAKE SALTS FOR A KIDNEY BACKACHE

Drink Lots of Water All Day Long to Keep Kidneys Flushed

Too much rich food forms acids which excite and overwork the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like you relieve the bowels, removing acids, waste and poison, else you may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's uricous waste, begin drinking water. Also get about four ounces of Jax Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jax Salts is inexpensive and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

By all means, drink lots of good water every day.—Adv.

Training Camp Briefs

ROOT GOING GOOD
Catalina Island, Cal., March 9.—Charles Root was either pitching in his splendid mid-season form, or the Cubs' sluggers haven't yet found their batting eyes. That fact stood out today following another practice game victory for the "goofs" over the regulars. Root, making his initial appearance on the mound, pitched the first three innings and allowed only one hit. Behind this pitching, and more like it by Weinert and Bush, the "Goofs" won 5 to 1.

INDIANS LOOK GOOD
New Orleans, March 9.—General Manager Billy Evans was much pleased with the performance of his Cleveland Indians in their first practice game of the season yesterday when the "A" team defeated the "B" nine, 6 to 2 in a five and a half inning game. It was the first time Evans, who arrived yesterday, saw his Tribesmen in action this year.

TO PLAY GAME
Shreveport, La., March 9.—Weather permitting, Ray Schalk's White Sox will tackle the Shreveport Sports here today in the first game of their annual exhibition series. Rain, which fell throughout most of yesterday, kept the Athletics inside. Last night they relaxed by watching a local "baseball" match. The two mainstays, Barrett and Hunsfield, are expected to reach camp tomorrow or Sunday, according to Harry Grubiner, Sox secretary.

INDIANS LOSE
Chicago, March 9.—An Indian basketball quintet, led by the greatest redskin of all time, Jim Thorpe, came within 11 points of defeating their pale-face opponents, the Chicago Bruins, of the American Professional circuit, in an exhibition game here last night. The final score was: Chicago, 50; Thorpe Indians, 40.

Hornsby And Slattery To Pep Up Boston Club

Editor's Note: This is the third of a series of articles by Davis J. Walsh, dealing with developments in the training camps of major league ball clubs. Other articles of the series will follow.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
St. Petersburg, Fla., March 9.—It was like time in the old dressing room and a goodly crowd was there; also a goodly aroma and it wasn't sweet spirits of rubbing alcohol. No, no, Arthur; you simply must be more careful. You have the wrong dressing. The one we want is permeated with a faint but intriguing scent of freckle-cut violet. Violets for friendship, I think the saying is.

Anyhow, I wish to announce on the best of authority that today the Boston Braves obtained waivers on Danmore and Pythias. They were a worthy pair to have around and everybody had a good word for them. But baseball is a cold-blooded game and the fact of the matter is that the boys really aren't needed any more. The Braves, it is intimated, intend to replace them with a couple of new men named Hornsby and Slattery.

Yes, it is the same Rogers Hornsby who struck up south intimate, congenial friendships with Branch Rickey and Sam Breadon in St. Louis, and with Charley Sturgeon in New York, but that is something which Jack Slattery, new Boston manager, conceals himself slightly. As far as he is concerned, Hornsby is the greatest man he ever handled, tractable, amenable, a great hustler who inspires every one with his urge to win and altogether his admirable young man.

Hornsby A Hustler
"I am willing to lay a bet that Hornsby is hustling more than any other star in the game," Slattery said. "I couldn't ask for a better break than I got when he was traded to the Braves. Why he hustles so much that the rest of the club just can't keep up with him." "I don't ask what happened in New York or St. Louis. In fact, I don't care. Hornsby is the best man I ever handled. We like each other and will go the limit to prove it. I wouldn't trade him back to the Giants now for half of McGraw's ball club."

So, it appears, the stormy petrel no longer is on the wing or maybe he was a little humming bird all the time and nobody found it out until he met Jack Slattery. As for the latter, I gained the impression that he will burn with you, if you feel that way, or storm with you just as unconcernedly. He looks you right in the eye, this Slattery, and I don't think he cares a whoop whether you like him or not. It seemed, safer, so I decided to like him.

Make Team Better
Frankly, the Braves would seem to be no worse than the best of the potential second division clubs and they have at least an outside chance of finishing fourth. Hornsby has done that to them, or most of it, for the club has undergone few changes otherwise.

It will have the same man at first base, Dick Burris; the same shortstop, Farrell; the same third baseman, Andy Delaney; and virtually the same pitchers. The outfielders, Eddie Brown, Lance May Seek Title

MAY SEEK TITLE
Jack Delaney Offered Fight With Tommy Loughran
New York, March 9.—Jack Delaney has been offered an opportunity to regain his light heavyweight title and has taken the proposal under advisement. Matchmaker Jess McMahon is trying to promote a match between Delaney, who retired undefeated, and Tommy Loughran, who is now champion. When Delaney held the title he would not give Loughran a shot at it but Tommy is willing to risk the crown against Jack.

WILDCATS WIN
The Marion Wildcats last night defeated the Mansfield Sunday School team 36 to 25 at Mansfield. Roush, Hachten and McAninch were the scoring stars for the locals with eight points each.

"Terror of Umpires" to Be Official This Season

BY FRANK G. MENKE

In the years of his baseball hey-day, they called him "The Terror of Umpires." In the days of his prime, he scoffed them, baited them, cussed 'em—held their profession in utter contempt—and, when the mood was upon him, he whanged their chins with his huge fists.

And now this same fellow—Sherwood Magee—is an umpire himself.

Life's rather tough, isn't it? Magee, picturesque, colorful, fiery, hot tempered, aggressive with sarcasm that cut like a rapier, gained for himself the title of "Karo Kid of Baseball" so far back as 1911. That was the year when Magee decided verbal protest to an umpire was a waste of time—and so he resorted to other methods. Magee was a member of the Phillies when, on that day in 1911, Umpire Finneran made a decision against the Phillies.

About one—or maybe it was two or three—seconds later, Magee wandered into Finneran's neighborhood and bawling nothing else to do for the moment he clenched his right fist. Having done that he decided the first needed a little brisk exercise, so he tossed it hither.

Smacked Finneran

A compact bundle of bone and muscle collided with Finneran's whisker department, and, Finneran, not being a Joe Grim or a Battling Nelson in the matter of "taking it," picked himself a soft spot on the greenward and layed into a long, long swoon.

Magee was suspended—"Indefinitely." There was agitation for his expulsion from ball-dom. The incident should have distressed "Sherry." It did—and this is how:

"I ain't the guy I used to be," quoth "Sherry" when it was recounted that Finneran was "out" for about five minutes. "No, sir, I've slipped something awful. Why, say, there was a time when I socked guys even bigger than an umpire and only half as hard—and why, say, they were 'out' for hours and hours."

Five weeks after the incident transpired the suspension of Magee was lifted upon his promise to sin no more. But even as he promised not to knock umpires loose from their underplumings, he couldn't refrain from saying:

"Suspending a guy for busting an umpire is awful. Guys that smack umpires ought to get medals. Can't just understand why they let 'em live—those umpires!"

Magee never afterward belted umpires. But ever afterward he was like a thorn implanted in their ribbed sections. "Sherry" was constantly crabling. He took the umpires for plenty of "rides with that sharp tongue of his and shot them to pieces with sprays of his caustic.

The big league career of Magee, who ever will be remembered as one of the real sluggers in ball-dom's history, began far back in 1904 when Magee was a strapping 19. It was in that season that the Phillies, having noted his splendid work with Allentown, Pa., in 1903 decided to give him a chance. One chance was all that the powerful shouldered son of Erin needed.

A "Fighting Irishman"

Before 1904 was done fandom came to hear much in glowing ways—about the "Fighting Irishman" of the Phillies. From that day on, whenever he played, they always said of Magee: "Dangerous as dynamite in a pinch." Along in 1915 Magee was swapped to the Braves. In 1919 he was a member of the pennant winning Reds. Soon after that he was ejected from the Majors and slithered around in the Minors, ending up in 1926 at the age of 42, with the Baltimore Orioles.

And now comes the news that "Sherry" Magee, arch enemy of umpires all through his bright playing years, and a chap who ever insisted that "an umpire should be drowned at birth" will be an ump for the National League of 1928.

Suppose the day comes when a youth

Never a Wrinkle in Your Smart

All-Season Knit-tex Coat

If you want a coat that can't wrinkle, examine a Knit-tex. The makers knit the goods themselves. The cloth looks like a fine imported overcoating.

It drapes beautifully. It retains its well-bred smartness through years of wear and weather.

The label guarantees it for three years' satisfaction. And this is an All-Four-Seasons' coat—serviceable 10 months in the year—in warm months and chilly months—for it has warmth without weight.

Come in, try on a Knit-tex, and tell us exactly what you and the author think of this famous coat. It's the coat for this weather.

BLAME LOVE PLAYS AS INJURIOUS TO MORALS

Tokio—Plays portraying illicit love are injurious to the morals of Japan, if not to New York, so the Tokyo police have forbidden the production here of "Dress Under the Moon" because it is a New England drama. They say it was to have been presented here by the New Drama Association, an organization of Japanese interested in the modern stage. Japanese actors had been seen and had impersonated the boys and girls in the play for several weeks when the police, after reading the script submitted by the producers, put down the ban.

Don't lay your course in a proverb. They are rarely infallible.

TAVISTOCK HOTEL IS SOON TO BE TORN DOWN

London—Another of London's famous landmarks is scheduled to be torn down. The Tavistock Hotel, one of the last of the London coaching inns, has been sold, and the probability is that it will be torn down to make room for a modern building.

In its heyday, the Tavistock was the resort of such celebrated men as Dickens and Thackeray, and was renowned for its old-world atmosphere and hospitality. No woman guests were permitted in those days, and innovations of every kind were fought against as long as possible.

Even in modern times, the Tavistock Hotel managed to maintain much of its ancient charm and personality. To the last, it had its faithful adherents, and there are many who will miss its rare combination of old comfort, no-nonsense and distinct individuality.

MAKE FRENCH PRESIDENT HONORARY VET MEMBER

Kansas City, Kan.—Because of the patriotic friendship between the late Norman Prince, founder of the Lafayette Escadrille and the Republic of France, members of the U. S. Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. at Boston have voted to make President Gaston Doumergue of France an honorary commander of Post No. 1508.

Information of the action taken by Post No. 1508 was received at national headquarters of the V. F. W. here and given official sanction and approval of Captain R. B. Handy, Jr., Adjutant General.

If one has a clever son, of course, there is a whole lot in heredity.

CONSTIPATION CAUSES MANY A SLOW UP

But you can protect yourself

No man can do justice to his job — no woman can remain vivacious and happy — with constipation daily undermining health and strength. Aching heads, pain in muscles, nervousness, bloated cheeks — these are just little things that constipation brings on. In the end, it causes more than forty dreadful diseases.

Begin now combating constipation. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve it. More — to prevent it. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily — chronic cases, every meal. Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN because it is 100% bran — 100% effective.

Healthful and delicious with milk or cream, or with fruit or honey added. Sprinkle into soups. Recipes on package. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

CHRISTMAS TREE TRADE
WORK UNDER EXPERTS

Supplying Denver and vicinity Christmas trees during the season assumed immense proportions. According to the district office, 25,000 trees were cut and 2,500 more were cut but not yet ready to be cut. The district office cut fourth of the trees.

The National Forest region further part of the trees, was carefully supervised by trained foresters, resulting in much needed thinning of overcrowded stands in the vicinity of Jarro Canyon.

A general movement has been instituted by the government forestry department and the Denver Chamber of Commerce to thin out lands of evergreen trees not only on government lands, but on private lands as well. Many private owners are giving their cooperation.

No matter how good your advice is, others will first measure it with their own judgment.

MOVE IN CLEVELAND TO PUT U. S. IN WORLD COURT

Cleveland—A move has been started here in support of the resolution passed by United States Senator F. H. Gillett, of Massachusetts, which proposes that the United States resume negotiations to join the World Court. Letters, signed by prominent local men, including Newton D. Baker, former secretary of the war, and President Wilson, and Samuel May Jr., have been sent to thousands of individuals, clubs and other organizations urging them to write representatives to Congress telling of the widespread interest existing throughout the United States in "our adherence to the World Court."

Here's welcome news
from the Holsum Bakers

It's an established fact in many kitchens that Holsum

Bread stays fresh much longer than most loaves. This means that Holsum Bread is never wasted... a great saving.

This lasting freshness is blended into each appetizing loaf of Holsum with the richness of purest milk... selected shortening and finest yeast.

You'll find a welcome satisfaction in slicing a half loaf of yesterday's Holsum, if there's that much left. It will be fluffy and fresh, good to the last tasty morsel.

Why don't you try Holsum
today for its lasting freshness?

Sugardale
Windsor [Style] Ham

So sweet it
"melts in your mouth"

And it's Ready to Serve

WINDSOR Ham is a brand-new meat—and sweet, zesty, full of flavor as only a Sugardale meat can be. Made of the finest tender young pork and tasty spices, Windsor Ham holds a rare treat in store for anyone who likes good things to eat.

And in this new delicacy there is no bone, no waste, no bother—Windsor Ham comes to you already cooked (and cooked thoroughly) and ready to serve in slices like boiled ham.

Be the first to serve Windsor Ham
(in sandwiches or as a separate dish) at a bridge party or a party around the radio. You'll make a hit as an expert in good food.

Have You Tried
These Lately?

"Variety is the spice of life," and Sugardale Meats offer almost endless variety to the housewife who must constantly plan different menus. Delight your family with a different Sugardale delicacy every day. Begin today, with one of these:

U. S. FILM CONCERN TO PAY $25,000 FOR MARK

London—If Miss L. Sharp, an English seventeen-year-old Channel aspirant, succeeds in swimming the English

Channel in shorter time than Miss Ederle, the American Channel swimmer, she will receive $25,000 from an American film company.

James Wolfe who has trained many Channel aspirants, and who is preparing Miss Sharp for her coming attempt, announced the offer Miss Sharp has received, but refused to divulge the name of the film company.

Miss Sharp, he declared, is much faster in the water than Miss Ederle.

SMALL TOWN FOLKS SET STYLES, SAY LEADERS

Chicago—Where do the small town fashion leaders get their ideas from?
The Rue de la Paix? Bond Street? Fifth Avenue? No.

"Hitherto," began the ponderous speaker before the National Association of Retail Clothiers, "it has been assumed that styles come from Paris for women and from London for men. This is only true in a minor sense of the word. Styles are governed primarily by the average man and woman of the street. The average styles of Paris and London find little favor in the average American home.
The average man and woman in small towns in such towns and cities as they special garments are made from the styles of Paris and London."

CRIME ON INCREASE IN PARIS, POLICE REVEAL

Paris Crime is on the increase in Paris, according to a recent report of the Prefecture of Police. During the year 1927, the city police dealt with 100,000 cases, as against 97,418 the year previous, and arrests numbered 16,000, an increase of more than three hundred.

Incidents are among the times reported most on the increase but a marked decrease is noticed in automobile thefts. More suicides are also reported, with 1,507 persons taking their lives by various methods, the largest number since 1923.

It is good for posterity to help pay the war debt. It will teach posterity to be careful about plunging into war.

WISE'S

Why Buying at Wise's Saves Marion folks Money and still a small profit is made. No Landlord collecting enormous large rents. No supervisors, then some more supervisors, then checker, and where is the Main Boss?

Car load buying at Wise's comes direct to our Warehouse, Erie track, Barnhart St., with small overhead transportation to store. Everybody works at our house, that's why.

FORMER RESTAURANT MAN HELD BY POLICE

Andrew J. Paulson Charged With Giving Check Without Sufficient Funds

Andrew J. Paulson, former proprietor of the now defunct New Coney Island Restaurant in W. Center, was arrested at Norwood, yesterday and brought back to this city last night to answer to a charge of giving a check for $150 when he did not have that much money in the bank.

James Lopez, proprietor of the Lincoln Hotel, who filed the affidavit for Paulson's arrest, charged in his affidavit that on Dec. 16, while Paulson was remodeling the room in W. Center preparatory to opening the restaurant, he asked him to cash a check for $150, the money to be used to pay for the carpenter work. The check was cashed but when submitted to the bank was returned for lack of sufficient funds. Efforts to collect the money have been futile, he said. Paulson is being held at Police Headquarters pending a hearing before Municipal Judge William R. Martin.
